

INFORM • CONNECT • EMPOWER

THOMSON REUTERS
FOUNDATION

● trust.org

THOMSON REUTERS FOUNDATION IN AFRICA

THE WORLD'S UNDER-REPORTED STORIES

- 27 journalists and over 100 contributors reporting the world's under-reported stories.
- Unique insight and analysis on pressing humanitarian crises.
- In-depth coverage of anti-corruption and transparency issues across Africa, including an exclusive report on "dirty money" flows through Kenya.
- In-depth coverage of the human impact of climate change.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS POLLS

- Perception polls developed with the world's leading experts.
- Our polls: World's Most Dangerous Countries for Women (2011), Best and Worst G20 Countries for Women (2012), Best and Worst Arab League Countries for Women (2013).
- Latest poll assessing the 22 Arab League nations, nine of which are located in Africa.

FREE LEGAL ASSISTANCE

- 90 pro bono legal projects in Africa, ranging from everyday commercial matters to large international comparative research programmes.
- 164 members across Africa: 112 NGOs and social enterprises and 52 law firms.
- Legal research includes: a study of privacy and security issues related to mobile health, and an analysis of human trafficking and prostitution laws in 14 countries including Côte d'Ivoire, Nigeria and Senegal.

JOURNALISM AND MEDIA TRAINING

- 12,000 journalists trained in over 170 countries.
- 157 training courses held in sub-Saharan Africa since 1993.
- Topics covered include reporting HIV-AIDS, financial, rural, environmental and conflict reporting.

INNOVATIVE NEWS PLATFORMS IN ZIMBABWE AND EGYPT

- Aswat Masriya played a key role in providing the world's media with accurate and objective news throughout the Egyptian upheavals.
- The Source provides business and economic news from Zimbabwe.

TRUST WOMEN CONFERENCE

- In 2013, 450 global leaders from 40 countries, including Tunisia, Egypt, Somaliland, South Africa, and the Democratic Republic of Congo attended the event.
- Speakers included Edna Adan, Former Foreign Affairs Minister of Somaliland and Founder of Edna Adan Maternity Hospital; Amira Yahyaoui, human rights activist, Tunisia; and Xav Hagen, Country Director (DRC), Women for Women International.
- 2014 conference to take place 18-19 November in London. Find out more on trustwomenconf.com.

